You may be interviewed by a food pantry volunteer from time to time so that we may better determine the type of assistance that would be most beneficial to you and your family. Because we serve so many in the community, there are guidelines that we use to help assure everyone is treated fairly, equally and with respect. Alcoholic beverages may not be brought to or used at the food pantry. Anyone at the food pantry under the influence of alcohol or other drugs will be asked to leave by means other than driving. We will notify the authorities of anyone driving away from the food pantry under the influence. All food distributed by the food pantry is for the food pantry clients, their families and dependents listed above and may not be sold or traded to others. Those choosing to violate this guidelines will not be served by the the pantry in the future.

I agree that the above information is true and correct. Any deliberate falsification disqualifies me from receiving assistance. I release the food pantry and any individual from any liability for damages of any kind resulting from the exchange of information relating to identity, financial status, residence, or any other assistance provided. I also agree to provide proof of identification, financial status, and residential information, should that be deemed necessary to verify my application.
